Speakers' Message

We, the students of the Technical High School, in order to fulfill the tradition of our school, to promote high educational standards, to insure inter-class tranquility, to advance extra-curricular activities, to establish a spirit of sportsmanship, and to secure the ideals of good citizenship for ourselves and our posterity, do submit this, "The Tech Tiger of 1949."

Our School - Tech

The students of Technical High School are indeed very fortunate to have such a capable, understanding, and really wonderful teaching staff. All of the teachers, besides doing all the work required in a regular teaching curriculum, assist and advise extra-curricular clubs or activities. Many of the faculty members hold positions or belong to the clubs of Springfield or to National organizations. However, with all these things to do and think about, they manage to be friendly and very helpful to anyone and everyone.

To head this staff are, of course, those congenial gentlemen, the two top men, M. Marcus Kiley, principal, and Donald G. Gifford, assistant principal. Everybody knows and admires Donald G. Gifford. Mr. Gifford's wit is a joy to us all, and he employs it often by playing tricks on Mr. Sprague and Mr. Lynch. He also possesses a fine sense of humor. He certainly needs it when Mr. Sprague gets his revenge. Mr. Gifford's pride and joy, besides his wife and two darling daughters, is the annual show, Tech Tantrums. He really goes all out to make this affair the success that it has been and undoubtedly will be in the future, under his coaching. His interests do not all tie in the Tantrums, however. He lends his whole support to the annual play, the Gymboree, and Tech Turns to Music.

Mr. Gifford is very enthusiastic about discovering hidden talent in the students at Tech. He blends these unknown accomplishments to a fine polish for the show. Many of the musical greats who boast of being alumni of Tech were discovered and urged ahead by D.G.G.

The Student Council is lucky enough to have Mr. Gifford as one of its advisers. He sits in on the Monday meetings of that organization, and he is always willing to give its members fine advice. Many of the projects of the Council are accomplished only by his welcome cooperation and assistance.

The freshmen at Tech have a great deal to do with Mr. Gifford. He plans their orientation assemblies on sports, social relations, future occupations, and school work. His assembly which is most "looked forward to" is the panel discussion on teen-age problems in which the students participate.

Mr. Gifford's untiring efforts and willing assistance have proved to Techites that he is another of Tech's great builders.

M. Marcus Kiley, Principal

M. Marcus Kiley is more than the principal of Tech; he is a part of Tech. To Mr. Kiley, Technical High School is more than his place of business. It is a living, breathing thing, and he treats it as such. The students are the very blood of the school, and it is necessary that their characters be strong, vital, and rich that the institution may flourish. Mr. Kiley has taken upon himself the task of seeing that every student be given the opportunity for a well-rounded personality and a background that will enable him to enter the working world in a manner worthy of a Technical High School graduate. Mr. Kiley has a deep understanding and fond affection for every student. Each is an individual personality to him, and he treats him as such. It is a rare junior or senior whom Mr. Kiley cannot call by name. He is not only concerned with the curriculum of Tech, but is a strong supporter of all activities. Mr. Kiley is anxious that each student feel that he himself is a stock-holder in this school. A phrase, which is always on his lips, is "Tech belongs to those who make it." Mr. Kiley, as principal and friend, takes a genuine pleasure in hearing of the success of those who have been graduated from Tech, and glories in the fact that our graduates can be found everywhere in the world. M. Marcus Kiley is a member of the Massachusetts State Organization of Secondary Schools. He may be found at many meetings of the Kiwanis Club and the Standing Committee of Athletics. He is a prominent Elks member, and was on the committee for the essay contest, which was open to school children. He is understanding and willing to converse with any student on any problem which might arise. That a student might gather valuable information concerning colleges, he conducts weekly college preparatory assemblies in which he informally answers any questions which are asked. When a student leaves Tech, he carries with him a portion of the school; and who, carrying even the smallest particle of Tech, does not also take with him a bit of the philosophy of M. Marcus himself?

Roberta Bruton receives a helping hand from Mrs. Lemay.

Dorothy Adams of the English department is quite a busy little lady. Besides her regular classes, she was a member of the Poetry Contest committee. The new adviser of the Tech News is Helen Brazeau, who willingly took over the job this year. She is also school librarian. If you've ever noticed a friendly teacher near 212, she's the genial Alice Carey. Besides teaching Macbeth and Hamlet, Miss Carey also finds time to bowl. For several years Dr. Charles Cockayne has not been well. Last fall his condition became more acute and he returned to his home in Ohio where he died on February 27, 1949. Tech has lost a great friend and brilliant teacher in the gentleman, Dr. Cockayne. Action! Lights! Drama! These words come from the mouth of Sidney V. Doane, Tech's popular drama coach. He's quite the man about Tech. If you've ever seen a long Hudson draw up and a teacher get out, it's Jean Hawkins. She's the envy of many a teacher with that slick car. After five years of advising prize-winning yearbooks, Una D. Hilliker, when no new adviser could be found, carried on, and has ended the year as adviser of another good book. The Junior class has a teacher of the English department for its adviser, Emma Lemay. She also puts a lot of time and hard work on the fundamentals of English in all her classes. The lady with the infectious laugh is Dorothy Ruggles. Mrs. Ruggles keeps the "News of Techites" bulletin board up to date. Sadie Tabackman of 215 is one of Tech's popular teachers. During her three years here, she has gained many new friends. Mae Whalen is one of the newest and gayest members of the department. Her pleasant personality and happy laugh brighten many a day. Shakespeare's fondest admirer is Leta Young. Although she's strict in class, she's really a wonderful gal — and, when you have left her room, you have learned something!

History

Jessie Bourn
Albert Johnson

Ruth Grady
Eleanor Reardon

Elsa Jaede
Howard Mitchell

Mary McCarthy
Fales Newhall

Tech has collected quite an expert history staff. Its members are not only ambitious and brilliant, but also friendly. Jessie M. Bourn is a very interesting person and teacher. She does so many things in such a small amount of time. Her special classes in Economics are an example. We hear she's quite active in community women's clubs, too. The good-natured Ruth C. Grady returned to Tech this year. Was everyone happy! Everyone who knows her has classified her as one of Tech's finest. Welcome back from all of Tech, Miss Grady. Handsome Al Johnson is a friend to all at Tech. The students know him as a genial, quick-witted pal. He's doing a wonderful job as senior class auditor. Friendly Eleanor Reardon, ever a favorite, is a part of the warm friendliness here at Tech. Miss Reardon not only teaches a schedule of classes, but she also takes care of her proudest achievement, the Student Council. She keeps things going at all times during those Monday Council meetings. She also directs and coaches Tech's representatives to the A.I.C. Model Congress.

If you want to learn a foreign language, Tech is the place to find the teachers to teach it. They are an unusual group of outstanding linguists. Elsa Jaede is one who really knows her languages. She has traveled in Europe and Asia. During her summers off, when she isn't traveling, she tends to her beautiful flower gardens. The petite lady from room 230 is Mary Z. McCarthy. The fashionable little lady's favorite pastime in winter is figure skating. She cuts quite a fancy figure! She knows her Spanish, too. One of Tech's most ambitious faculty members is Howard Mitchell. In the winter, he edits textbooks and does translating jobs; during the summer, he lives in his Cape Cod cottage. That's where he gets that beautiful tan you've been wondering about. Fales Newhall may be found behind a pile of financial books ever since he has taken over as auditor of the class of 1951. In spite of this terrific job, he finds time to grow a garden in warmer weather and to advise his one and only chess club. Mr. Newhall is one fine fellow, we think. He speaks German as fluently as English.

Modern Languages

Mr. Spence hard at work.

Miriam Allen of the math department is one of 2 Tech's favorite people. She's an adviser of Pro Merito as well as a Tantrums' whistler. The well-known athletic manager is George Andrewes. He has quite a job keeping Tech sports alive financially. Besides juggling the athletic business, he found time to build himself a new house. Benjamin Bushey has been tagged with quite an achievement. He built himself the most modern house around these parts. He did this in his free time. An air enthusiast, he has interested many boys in aeronautics. Another member of the math department is an adviser of Pro Merito. He is the friendly Theodore Chase. He ably filled Dr. Cockayne's position as head of the Pro Merito during his absence. Everyone knows and likes Mr. Chase. Henry Hewitt, besides being a mathematical whiz, has the position of S. A. treasurer. Take it from him, that's quite a task. He displays his other talents by his performance in Tantrums every year. Mary T. Kelley is one of the devoted advisers of the senior class. She's considered quite a cook, too. The math department has also given the senior class Edna G. Marston. She's head adviser and is doing a grand job. Harold Schellenger always keeps himself busy either with teaching or being a grandfather. He's some photographer, too. The adviser of the Tech Store is Arthur Woodworth. He's won the admiration of all because of his business ability and management of the Tech store. Agnes Young likes Tech, but we believe her heart is really in Waterville, Maine, with her young nephew, or — is it still California!

The Mechanical Drawing teachers at Tech can certainly take a bow for the fine training they give the students who plan to be engineers, draftsmen, and architects. Mr. Alexander Davis is an outstanding example of such a teacher. He really enjoys this subject which he so ably teaches. His interest in his mechanical drawing classes is recognized by all who are lucky enough to have him as an instructor. Orley L. Duffin has his hands full, this year as last, with the business staff of the Tech News. And what a business! They have been having quite a problem with finances. [Haven't we all?] With all this plus his classes to worry about, Mr. Duffin manages to keep a friendly smile on his face and a cheerful "hello" on the tip of his tongue for everyone. Tech's most enthusiastic "older" bowler is Raymond MacKenzie. He has to put aside the bowling ball and cease "bowlin' 'em over" long enough to keep the financial affairs of the Class of 1950 straight. You see, he's the able auditor. The tall, dark, handsome fellow seen often in the vicinity of room 219 is none other than that nice John Robinson. Mr. Robinson is really an expert on skis. He's adviser to the Tech Ski Club and also the Hi-Y. Girls, he's got some kind of magic spell over the fellows. If you're looking for him, he'll be there as quick as you can say "Jack Robinson". Chester Thorndike has been doing an outstanding job as head of the Mechanical Drawing department at Tech. Really a dapper-looking gentleman, Mr. Thorndike is one of the many members of the Tech faculty who are willing to do more than their share.

The shop work at Tech does such an important job in rounding out the boys' programs that the teachers of this subject deserve a hand. Roland Fitzroy keeps all Tech's lockers straight. Take it from him, that's quite a job, too. Tech's most enthusiastic angler is Walter Hansen. He takes time out to go fishing every now and then. He is a wonderful help to the Junior Class of which he is an adviser. Warren Lawrence, a rather reserved man, keeps the machine shop running in tip-top shape. Howard Reed can be seen every day in the lunchroom, keeping everyone in tow, and attempting to catch anyone trying to mess up his beat. George Reynolds is the man to look out for if you're planning to cut a class. He's an expert "catcher," so be careful or you'll have him to reckon with! Robert Spence is mighty proud of his classes and his daughter. She received Tech's D. A. R. Award this year. Charles Winslow is always a helpful fellow when class dance decorating rolls around. He's very willing to help everybody with his decoration problems. Mr. Winslow is in charge of the Stage Crew, and he is responsible for the unusual sets for the annual play and our big Tech Tantrums show.

Guidance

Miss Whittemore takes pride in her bulletin board on which she places news of Tech Graduates who have made good. P.S. — She's quite an ice skater, too.

Anybody who has ever had an ache or pain knows Winifred "Nursie" Parent. "Nursie" is always around with a friendly, warm smile. She's one of the first people the new freshmen meet. Our "Nursie" is everybody's pal.

In our opinion, Tech has the best Physical Education staff in the city. Of course, we may be prejudiced, but the following is the foundation of our firm belief: Miriam Hatch is really an all-around good sport. She coached the Cheer Leaders who so ably cheered our teams to many victories. Miss Hatch excels in all sports and is especially proficient in skiing. She's awfully cute, too. Everyone knows the curly haired gentleman who is John Kalloch. A constant joker and well-liked by all, he works wonders with the soccer and basketball teams. At a basketball game, he freely applauds excellent plays, and sometimes he seems to be almost playing the game from the players' bench because he gets so excited. John has coached many boys who have gone on to make a further name for themselves in sports. He is very proud of each of them. You can always find Johnny talking about "his boys". Vic Kodis is another of the gym quartet. He is head coach of the football team and executes his

If Tech students are ever in need of sound counsel or just a friendly chat, they are always welcome in the offices of Melvin Lynch, Stanley Sprague, Helen Theinert, or Miriam Whittemore. Always willing to assist boy students with their problems, Mr. Lynch also has his hands full as a Senior Class adviser. If you're wondering who the big tall man is, just cease your guessing. Mr. Stanley Sprague is your man. He is the counsel for freshmen boys, and he ably smooths out their various problems. Stan is also the head of the Junior Class Advisers, and he has been a marvelous help to these kids. Dr. Helen Theinert is just this side of a whiz. Besides teaching her math classes, she manages to give all tests of the standard type. A wonderful friend of all girl students is Miriam Whittemore. A student is free to consult her concerning a college or a future occupation.

The likable Mr. Clancy.

Tech's Science staff has quite a group of ambitious people. This is Charles Allan's second year back from Junior College. He carries the big task of student placement in addition to his classes. Mr. William Brooks is not only a regular guy, but a text book writer, too. His new Chemistry Text book is used now in all his classes. Nelson Butler always seems to have his hands full. He's business adviser of the yearbook, and you can imagine what a job that is. Our Mr. Butler always manages to keep smiling though. Hardly any student that has ever been to Tech has missed knowing the genial William Clancy. Mr. Clancy has his joking minutes along with his serious ones. Edmond Maynard seems lonely this year since his loss of the Class of '48. He had his hands full as its auditor, but now electronics, his first love, again has first place. Tech Tantrum's Edgar Bergen, otherwise known as Frank McMahon, is adviser of the Rifle Club. He does an excellent job as a ventriloquist, and also as an adviser. The handsome, bright-eyed guy up in 307 is Herbert Northrup. The genial Mr. Northrup is a Senior Class adviser and a pal to all. Mabel Potter has done an excellent job of building up the biology department. She has made it one of the most interesting subjects at Tech. Her collection of bees has been the object of much curiosity and interest. Popular David Reed proves science can be humorous and serious at the same time. He puts across his knowledge in a "different" way.

Tech has a simply wonderful art department. The Tech dances are proof that the talented teachers are always willing to help every dance committee. Miss Bessie Allen is willing to lend her artistic talents to many Techites. There is always something interesting going on in her classes to keep them from becoming boring. Miss Allen's poster classes supply the colorful announcements of coming events at Tech. Miss Helen Norrgard returned to Tech a little late this year because she filled an emergency at Classical. Better late than never, we always say. She entered right into the Tech spirit, and soon the school looked like itself again. Her particular pride and joy is the scene outside of 312. The third floor walls resounded Christmas music this year, thanks to Miss Norrgard. A fine friend of all Tech students is Ida Roy. What a grand job she does in working with dance committees! Even "shmoos" didn't baffle her for dance decorations. Besides being a grand teacher and keeping the bulletin boards and show cases looking attractive, Miss Roy is willing to help iron out small problems. She's an artist, too!

Helen Borrner is not altogether new to Tech this year. This is her first year as a teacher, but it wasn't too long ago when she was a student here. She was graduated from Tech and, because she liked the school so much, returned here to teach. She excels in the many fine arts of sewing. Her students think she is all this and a wonderful person besides. Tech's cooking expert is Ruth Gabler. She's a mighty fine home economist, too. She turns out some luscious meals in her foods classes. Pert Beatrice Miller is known to all at Tech. She has many extra jobs around school, such as taking care of girls' employment and the usherettes. Miss Miller lines up those neat looking usherette squads for school productions, and she also takes part in Tech Tantrums. Another charming lady who has entered the Home Economics department is Goldie Parks. The exquisite fashions and hair-do's that Mrs. Parks wears are admired by all. The Home Management favorite here at Tech is Eugenia Wilson. Miss Wilson educates the girls at Tech to cope with problems in their future homes. She has ironed out many difficulties that have come up in their minds. Miss Wilson also pinch-hits for Miss Miller as usherette adviser.

Besides directing the girls in constructing garments ranging from pajamas to new Easter outfits, these able clothing teachers work hard each spring to stage a successful fashion show. They also direct the girls in giving excellent dinners and elaborate teas. All in all with these fine experienced teachers, the girls that take the Home Economic course at Tech have a great opportunity to become grade A homemakers.

duties with assurance. He coached the fellows for the grand Gymboree. The tall handsome fellow who coaches baseball and football, too, is William "Bill" Lawler. A possessor of a grand personality, Bill also has his hand in making the basketball team come out on top. Here comes that amiable Milt Orcutt out of the swimming pool. A wonderful coach, Milt takes a personal interest in each of his swimmers. Thanks to his instruction and care, the Tech swimmers were able to take the title at the Western Massachusetts Swimming Meet. That makes four wins out of five years. Quite a record! The dark-haired lass from the Girls' gym is Ann Ratto. A young woman with an engaging smile and winning personality, Miss Ratto coaches all after school sports for girls, in addition to regular gym classes. The well-trained modern dance groups in the Gymboree were certainly the result of excellent coaching. Coming from Springfield College, young good-looking John Coulter certainly carried on in highest tradition for our music department.

We're very proud of our Tech Office staff. Each of them is friendly and willing to help the students keep everything under control. The freshmen may not know this, even some upper classmen haven't realized it yet, but there is a new name in the office this year. Mr. Kiley's cute secretary, the former Marion Bradley, is now Mrs. Cummings. She may have changed her name, but Miss Bradley — oops — Mrs. Cummings is still the same sweet gal. Miss Rena Bradley, the only "Miss Bradley" now, keeps everything in order at the school. She has charge of all students' records, and it's amazing the way she keeps them straight. Is it any wonder why she never has a spare moment? Dorothy Mansfield, a cute kid, is the member of the office staff who keeps all attendance records, and what a job! We understand that she has to keep her boy-friend happy, too. Busy as she may seem, Dot still was kind enough to assist the Student Council members print football programs last fall. The last, but by no means least, of the Office staff is Mrs. Ethel Mitton — Jo. This sweet woman is everybody's pal, and she'll help anyone with what they want or need.

The two Warner Achievement Medal winners of the Class of '49 are the very deserving MARIE TORRES and JOHN JOSLYN.

Marie, daughter of Mr. Antonio Torres at 61 Cooley Ave., East Longmeadow is the female recipient of this coveted award. She has been an outstanding student, always a model for the rest of her class. She was always trustworthy, a promoter of good citizenship, and a believer in high Tech ideals. We wish Marie all the luck possible for a successful future.

JOHN JOSLYN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Joslyn of 50 Belleclair Ave., Longmeadow, walked off with the Warner Achievement honors in the male devision. A wonderful fellow, Jack has been a shining example for his classmates. From his entrance as a freshman, he began making a name for himself in Tech. He has been a firm promoter of school spirit, high scholastic standing, and all-around good fellowship. We're sure that Jack will be a marvelous success in the future work he chooses.

Bread Line

The Junior Prom of the '49ers was very appropriately named "May Nocturne". The general chairman of the dance was Shirley Simpson, while the underchairmen were Betty Wales, decorations; Betty O'Brien, hostesses; Joyce Warner, refreshments; Betty MacDonald, publicity; Marie Ventrice, programs; Gene Forkey, orchestra; Dave Joslow, properties and lights; and Mark Schupack, the class treasurer, tickets. Phil Putnam, president of the Junior class, acted as ex-officio.

The prom was publicized throughout the school by means of posters and the Tech News. Finally, when the big day arrived, the decorating committee after much hard work achieved a marvelous effect in the Tech gym. They were fortunate to have the expert guidance of Miss Roy. There were huge baskets of artificial roses and other spring flowers with green and white streamers adorning the bleachers. Enormous flowers of various colors hid the basketball hoops and more green and white streamers connected each basket with the center of the ceiling. The centerpiece was a fountain with a silver ball in the middle. The fountain was surrounded with ferns and flowers through the generosity of Wenk's Florist.

Behind the band, Bob Lee's Sextet, the banner of the class of 1949 was displayed. It was unfurled for the first time for all to see at the finale of the '49ers first grand march. Intermission followed, and cake, ice cream, and soda were served in the lunchroom. It seemed no time at all until strains of "Stardust" were heard, and everyone knew it was time to leave. This was the final activity for the Juniors before becoming all important seniors.

Can't you just hear them now? "Hurry up and cut it," bellowed the kids to Miss Hilliker. "We're just dying for a piece of that Guinea Grinder."

Sound strange? Not at all. Last year's Tiger Staff was full of surprises like this. At first, when Bob Morach and Fred Hamel marched in sharing the load of a huge flower box, it appeared to be a peace offering to make up for the absence of their copy, but when "the boss" opened it, the aroma that greeted her was far from sweet — but goooood!

Close your eyes and try to picture this: sliced tomatoes, salomi, cheese, lettuce, onion, pickles, mayonnaise, and pepper and salt all jammed together between a loaf of crisp bread as long as your arm. Sounds yummy, doesn't it? [Well, it was!] All that, and in class, too!

Of course, everybody had to get into the act. That's the reason for the crowd around "the master's" desk. This episode in the life of the Tiger Staff was one of many. One that aroused much fun in class was the contribution of some animal-shaped balloons by Jack Canning. It seemed every time Jack, Bob, or Fred returned from an errand downtown, he brought something crazy with him. Then, there was the time the members of the staff contributed towards a box of chocolates to be eaten during the famed 4T period. Never a dull moment!

Coming back to the grinder, by the expressions on the kids' faces, its arrival was a huge surprise and a great success. N'est-ce pas?

Miss Hilliker feeds the grinds, while Miss Allen waits for a bite.

Tech's Three "Suns"

New York isn't the only city that has "The Three Suns" and "King Cole Trio". Our own Tech High has its replica of both these famous trios and best of all, both in one! In our opinion, our trio is the best. With our three rhythm kings, how can we be wrong?

For the past two years, Nat Jones has delighted the audiences in the annual Tech Tantrums presentations. His talent was recognized immediately by everyone. It was in the '48 Tantrums that the "King Cole Trio" first came to light. With Nat leading the trio with his songs, piano, and guitar playing, and Bernie Cohen and Al Alissi backing him up, you can imagine the applause following their appearance.

Tantrums aren't the only shows that Nat has appeared in. He was chosen through city-wide competition to appear in the nationally known Horace Heidt Talent Show. He plays in the Swing Band and was featured on Band Nite. Nat, Bernie, and Al have had a program on WSPR at 5 o'clock on Saturday. At this time and on this day many Techites may be found listening to their radios. Nat practices during two school periods and may be found practicing after school. He believes that "practice makes perfect!"

Wrestling demonstration by the Springfield College team.

My Side of the Fence

The Springfield College wrestling team gave an outstanding exhibition in the technique of wrestling last spring. The protective mats and scoring table were set up as in a regular amateur wrestling match. The men sat in exactly the same order as they would have been in an inter-collegiate match. Vic Kodis, who was and still is their coach, was dressed in the official referee uniform. First he analyzed the rules and scoring to enable everyone to understand them. Then he gave a short outline about the legal and illegal holds. The men then went into combat with each other. Pairing off, they demonstrated several of the holds.

The skill and training of these men were easily acknowledged by the means in which they performed and thrilled the audience. The girls screamed, while the boys yelled and whistled. Teachers were astounded and stunned at the falls and holds that were illustrated.

This season was a very successful one for the team. Their victories over several colleges set a fine record for them. Vic Kodis can certainly be complimented on the excellent job he did in training these men.

Buried Treasure

Tech High was honored this past year by a special assembly featuring a former Tech graduate, Mr. Arthur Bigelow. The picture shows Mr. Bigelow producing some wonderful music from his bells.

There is an interesting story behind these bells. Just before the Germans invaded Holland, Mr. Bigelow was lucky enough to be able to leave quickly. He had to leave so soon that it was impossible for him to take the bells with him. He had given them up as lost or destroyed until he received word that his friends in Holland had saved them by burying them. They were preserved this way for over five years. The bells were nearly in perfect condition when Mr. Bigelow regained them.

Mr. Bigelow is now a professor at Princeton University. He also makes and designs his bells. He says that his training at Tech, and the useful things he learned in mechanical drawing and drafting are most important to him now in making his own bells.

Carousel Capers

The gym was crowded with seniors on April 9, for this was the night of the senior spring dance. In keeping with the name, Carousel Capers, the gym was decorated in true carnival style. This semi-formal event was a credit to Claire Chartier and her many hard working helpers.

As each couple entered the gym, the first thing that captured their eyes was the attractive centerpiece, which consisted of life-like animals on a revolving merry-go-round. Clowns and circus animals were featured in the decorations. One of the main attractions was the side show of caged-in patrons and patronesses. The highlight of the evening was three clowns who mingled with the dancers generally adding to the merriment.

Another novel feature was the band which played from a position high above the dancers on the top of a band wagon. As Frank Shalis and his band played its final selection, the long remembered carnival dance came to a close.

How Talented Can You Be!

A very common sight in the Tech assembly hall is that of talented Joyce Burleigh at the piano. Joyce accompanied many of the well-remembered vocal numbers at the nineteen forty-eight Tech Turns to Music. Besides accompanying the three mixed choruses, and a duet by Dick Rackliffe and Mable Rae, Joyce thrilled the audience with her beautiful "Rhapsody in Blue" by the great composer, George Gershwin. Before any of Tech's musical productions, Joyce spends every spare moment practicing in the auditorium. She also worked with Mr. Lloyd Patton in arranging the program for last year's Tech Turns. After seven years of taking lessons herself, Tech's "kitten on the keys" is now teaching piano. Joyce won the state and national awards under the audition of Hans Barth. For the state award it is necessary to memorize seven pieces, while ten are required for the national award. Contestants are judged on fingering, touch, timing, ability, and expression. At present, Joyce plans to continue in her musical work; and a sparkling future stands within the grasp of those talented fingers.

Three Guys and a Shmoo

These three joyous players are shown after our great victory over Cathedral in the '48 season. By the looks of their uniforms, one can readily see that the game was played on a very muddy field. Oscar, in the center, is holding the "shmoo", which was our good luck charm for that game, while Ray, on the right, is holding the pigskin that was used in the game. During this past season, Ray was co-captain of the team with Red Stewart. Oscar has been elected captain of the '49 team. These three players were tied for high scorer of the team with one touchdown apiece.

Next year Tech will be without the services of Carlo and Ray as they will have been graduated. Carlo played on the team for three years, while Ray played for two. They were both on the track team for two years. Ray was also in the Gymboree for two years. Oscar has been on the football team for two years. He played baseball for two years and performed in the Gymboree in 1949.

Musical Partners

To the juniors and seniors of Tech, Albert Alissi and Sofia Paspatis need no introduction. Their lively accordian duets kept us all entertained during their stay at Tech. Sofia and Al, who performed in many of our productions, were graduated last year; but they and their music were not lost to Tech for good. Al and his famous accordian were back in their familiar place on stage last fall, when he returned, as one of "Tech's Four Sons", to play on Band Nite. Sofia more recently returned, sans her squeeze-box, to speak to the senior girls on the opportunities which Trade School offers to the high school graduate. She is now taking a course in Dental Hygiene at that school.

The music of Sofia and Al is in the past, but not forgotten by their classmates. Even when today is in the dim past, accordian music will recall the figures of a boy and girl on a school stage, playing their happy tunes for an auditorium full of teachers and classmates. Who will fill the two vacancies on Tech's list of talent? Will the accordian step aside for Frankie DeSimone at the piano, or Jack Benson with his drums? Maybe the class of '50 or '51 will come forth with a new Sofia and Al. If so, the Tech Tantrums are assured their present success in the future, while Albert Alissi and Sofia Paspatis move on to further fame.

The students of Tech were exceedingly fortunate this past fall to have Mr. Donald Pirnie present an assembly of organ and piano music. This proved to be one of the most popular assemblies of the year. First of all, Mr. Pirnie played a few selections at the organ, and then he featured the piano. He combined the two instruments, playing them both at the same time. A few of the more popular selections that Mr. Pirnie played were the "Saber Dance" and "Begin the Beguine". When he turned to the audience for requests, he was loudly greeted with the old favorite, "You Can't Be True, Dear". Judging from the reaction of the audience, Mr. Pirnie must have encouraged many Tech students who are interested in the organ and piano. The first assembly paid Mr. Pirnie one of its highest compliments by continuous applause after the eleven forty-three lunch bell had rung. As you Techites well know, this is a seldom heard of occurrence. The popularity of the assembly has brought other similar performances to our stage. Mr. Pirnie has been well-known in the area from his playing engagements each night at a local hotel. We of the younger set may enjoy this treat by listening to him over the radio each Saturday night. We, here at Tech, are eagerly looking forward to more outstanding assemblies such as the one Mr. Pirnie presented to us.

Guest Talent

The Father of Pro Merito

A true gentleman — a true friend — an outstanding member of the English staff, Doctor Charles A. Cockayne has been lost to Technical High School. The sincere grief and loneliness which followed the passing of our beloved friend and instructor is a much higher tribute than any we are able to express in writing. But nowhere has his death been more deeply felt than among the members of the Pro Merito Society whom he has led and encouraged since the Society originated at Tech.

Besides a stimulating personality, Tech has lost a brilliant mind. Doctor Cockayne, "Doc" to his pupils, was graduated from Heidelberg College with an A.B. degree, and received an M.A. degree from the same college. At Yale, Doctor Cockayne received M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in philosophy and education. Before coming to Tech, he was principal of two high schools, Superintendent of schools at Granville, a lecturer in education at Denison University, a professor of philosophy and education in Toledo University's college of liberal arts, and in 1910 he was elected president of that University. Besides having been the head of the English department at Tech, he had been the supervisor of English in the Springfield junior high schools.

Though he has left us, Doctor Cockayne's memory will live as long as students esteem outstanding teachers and as long as the Pro Merito Society exists and flourishes. His inspiration will remain forever in the hearts of his thousands of students and friends.

Dream Houses in the making.

The French Can-Can dance presented in last year's Tech Tantrums was possible only because of the careful direction given it by Miss Ann Ratto, whose idea it was to make this dance a part of the show. The Can-Can dance originated during the Gay Nineties in the time of vaudeville. In order to perform this dance, such perfections as timing, precision, and rhythm must be mastered. The girls based their practices upon these perfections. They practiced during gym classes and after school in the assembly hall or the old library to attain these three fundamentals of the dance. The pretty costumes were obtained through the efforts of — yes, you guessed it — Miss Ratto. She borrowed them from one of her friends in Boston. The music for the dance was acquired by the fine cooperation of Bernie Cohen who gave his free time to play the accompaniment. The music had to be revised to fit the dance and Bernie was always willing to play an extra measure or chorus. During the tryouts the dance met with instant approval from those in charge of Tantrums, for it was the first year that this type of dance was presented in the show.

Mr. Butler and the Tiger Business Staff.

Mr. Nelson Butler has done a marvelous job again this year with the yearbook business staff. This year has been a very trying one, because of the financial conditions which have prevailed. Mr. Butler and his staff have done a great deal of figuring to enable us to print a yearbook this year. Individual staff members have sought ads for the book in many of the Springfield stores and businesses. If you don't know what a terrific job this is, just ask one of the staff members. Each member makes contacts with prospective advertisers in the city. They are carefully instructed as to the right kind of approach to make, as this is a selling job which requires careful handling. After the staff members secure the ads, they have to make out a dummy and arrange the ads in the best possible manner. The ads are sometimes written by the staff members. It is up to the advertisers as to how it is done. The proofs of these ads have to be taken back to the advertisers to be checked for approval before they can be printed in the yearbook. The bills are sent out, and the overdue bills are collected by the staff members. Besides securing ads, they have to figure out estimates and a hundred other things.

Donald Pratt and Leo Vartanian have done outstanding work with the help of staff members Bill Sawn, Joseph Dumas, Bill Willette, John Unwin, and Joyce White.

Busy at work are Doris Larvey, Miss Helen Norrgard, Doris Kibett, and Mary Fiorentino. Miss Norrgard and her ambitious craft classes have done an excellent job this year. They have attempted a vast number of projects, not only for their own pleasure, but for that of others. One of their most creditable tasks was the making of valentine corsages for the crippled children of the Shriners' Hospital. Corsages were also prepared for the chronic ward of the Springfield Hospital. The craft classes are an important part of our art department. Crafts is a foundation class offered primarily to the freshmen as a forerunner to other art classes. The works of the art department take a prominent place throughout the building. We would all miss the display cases which are so appropriately planned and decorated by the art service and project classes. The unusual posters and programs for our extra curricular activities are also to the credit of energetic students. The faculty guiding these projects are to be thanked for their interest and help. Enthusiastic interest in art can promote fine things, and a knowledge of crafts will certainly be of use to any girl in her own home. Besides undertaking the usual accomplishments of a craft class, Miss Norrgard's project class has been encouraged to try out some more unique ideas such as bronzed heads and three dimensional figures in paper. These were used for decorative purposes.

The Artistic Touch

Lower House

Junior

Mr. Sprague, Pat Hamilton.

The class of 1950 has been working hard to prove that they are capable of being the true upper classmen of the school. The able class officers who did such a fine job included Elvin Eady, president; John Turnbull, vice-president; Patricia Hamilton, secretary; and George Randall, treasurer. The president was new at his job, but he was aided greatly by the previous experience of Pat Hamilton and George Randall who were re-elected to their offices. Elvin Eady organized committees to make the all important decisions of class colors and rings. The rings came in February, and the proud owners were soon showing them off throughout the building. As usual, there was the traditional exchanging of rings. If the members of the class weren't attending class meetings, they were selling programs, attending the games, ushering at Tech productions, or participating in the various school organizations. Of course, all of this was accompanied by the difficult but interesting academic program.

One of the important events of the year was the "Sadie Hawkins's Day" dance. Joan Monaghan and George Streeter served as co-chairmen of the dance committee. Chick Gatto's band was selected to provide the smooth music. The decorations were quite unique, and the committee under the chairmanship of Joanna Little and Dick Farashian were rather proud of themselves. Tom Poots, the class artist, had, of course, given his helping hand to the decorations group. The game attendance of the class was unusually good which was only natural with so many of the stars being members of the class.

The smoothness with which class events were conducted may in large part be credited to the faithful class advisers, Mr. Sprague, Mrs. Lemay, Miss Grady, and Miss Jaede. They were always willing to solve problems or offer suggestions.

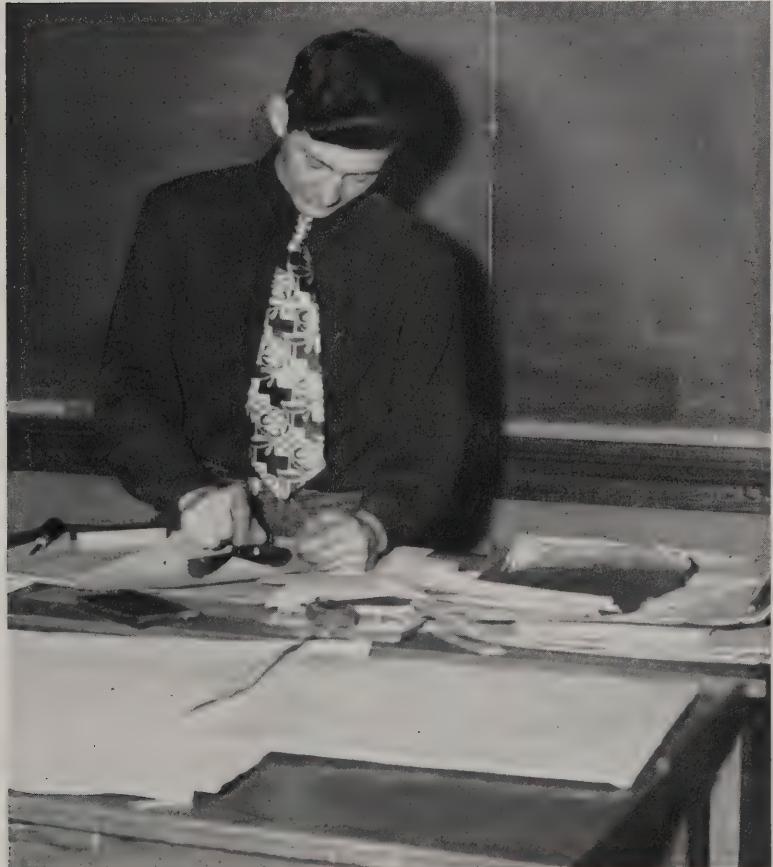

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Class

After the ideas were presented for class dances, Miss Roy and Mr. Hansen were invaluable. Mr. Mackenzie, the class auditor, was successful in keeping the class accounts balanced. When spring came the class was far too busy to indulge in the usual attack of spring fever. The time had arrived for the Junior Prom and the first formal brought some real excitement to the girls. The committee took extreme care with all the details. The high praises of the members of the class were ample reward for the willing efforts of the workers. At the end of the year the class was faced with its annual elections. After much campaigning, a very capable slate of officers was elected. This election reminded our serious-minded members of the all important year ahead. Looking back on the year's accomplishments, they felt gratified at their experiences and at what they had learned. The juniors feel gratitude not only to their own class advisers, but also to the many teachers who have so willingly aided them in their academic work. Many of the members have expressed appreciation in a more concrete form by their scholastic standing. Mr. Kiley and Mr. Gifford are, of course, an inspiration to the class as they are to every class which enters Tech. It is the ardent desire of each member that after the summer's vacation that they may return to meet the challenge of their senior year, and that when they leave Tech as graduates, their achievements as a class may become a part of the proud heritage of Tech.

portals again, at least until next September. Miss Miriam Whittemore was as cordial and helpful as ever, and many girls became acquainted with her right away. Mr. Melvin Lynch was, of course, a great help to all freshmen boys. Stanley Sprague took several of the freshmen under his wing and helped them get started on the right foot. His amiable ways make a person, not only a freshman, feel able to talk to him about matters which are strictly confidential.

With beautiful autumn weather to make them feel happy and glad to be alive, the freshmen were quick in becoming acclimated to their new surroundings. The autumn weather was also beneficial to football and soccer practice. Several of the boys proved themselves worthy of winning positions on these teams. As the season progressed, a few of these fellows made the headlines. If the ability they showed in '48 will be any standard to judge future teams by, it would seem that the '49 and '50 football and soccer teams should be very successful.

As the band displayed its wares at many of the football games and basketball games, several freshmen could be seen "all decked out" in the familiar orange and black uniforms. The Majorette Corps had its share of freshman representation, too. The band should be ably conducted in the ensuing two years if these baton twirlers are any example of the excellence we may expect from this field.

The Cheer Leaders conducted try-outs for new members, and some of the freshman girls were agile enough to be chosen in preference to their upper-class sisters. A pep squad was organized, too. There were quite a few freshman girls in this group who helped with the cheers at the basketball contests in the gym and also at the Springfield College Field House.

Several freshmen joined the Drama class and were given an opportunity to take part in many assemblies throughout the year. Kenneth MacDonald, a member of the Class of '51, had the leading male role in the drama club's annual production which, this year, was "Brother Goose". Some of his classmates had supporting parts in this delightful comedy. Lorraine Gentile, Pat Cardaropoli, and Angie Lucia were admitted to the Tech Tiger staff.

The tenth-graders chose some fine class officers in the fall. The campaign was a good one with many members of the class trying to attain a position in the class and also in the Student Council. With Edward Moll as its president, Patricia Cardaropoli as vice-president, Joyce Russell as secretary, and Eugene Herbert as its treasurer, the class sailed along smoothly toward the close of their freshman year at Tech, a time always to be remembered. Of course, we can't possibly forget the members of the Class of '51 who were chosen to represent that class in the Student Council. They were Lorraine Gentile, Pat Cardaropoli, Eugene Herbert, John Donovan, and Kenneth MacDonald. Edward Moll automatically became a member because of his position as president of the class. These people were placed on committees with upper-classmen and soon learned the ropes of parliamentary procedure. They were always willing to help on new projects in the Council.

The orientation classes for the freshmen were held with their usual success. Miss Miller had some classes meet in the living room on the third floor where the students were shown the proper ways of making an introduction, the correct way to eat under various circumstances, and other little items one must have to maintain social grace. The orientation groups met several times in the assembly hall to hear speakers from various city industries explain the purpose of their industry in the city, and the personnel managers' viewpoints on hiring employees. These speeches and hints have proved helpful to many students. Probably the most enjoyable of all orientation assemblies was the round-table discussion of prominent teen age problems. Students themselves participated in this enjoyable and instructive assembly, and everyone had a good time. Mr. Sprague usually had some good questions ready to ask the panel, and some believe he prompted his boys by telling them what questions to ask. How else could they be so smart! Another phase of the meetings of the orientation group was the participation of the Student Council in preparing freshmen for their fall elections. Two assemblies were held. At the first one the students were told of the coming election, instructed on the procedure for filing nomination papers, and encouraged to run for office. At the second meeting the candidates for class officers and Student Council were presented to their class. The freshmen always thoroughly enjoy these assemblies, too.

Many of the Class of '51 were featured in the Tech Tantrums of '49. There were so many good tap-dancers for the show from the class that the people in charge were forced to cut out some performers so that the show wouldn't be too long or the acts too repetitious. Perhaps next year they will be given an opportunity to "strut their stuff".

Edward Moll was elected by a school-wide vote to represent Tech with Phil Putnam, a senior, at Boston during Good Government Day in the Spring. Ed should have been very pleased considering that he was chosen in preference to some well-known upper-classmen. Fine work, Ed!

The dance in the Spring, the annual freshman dance, was a huge success thanks to a hard-working, well-organized, co-operative committee.

It's been fun going to school with the kids in the freshman class this year. To these grand people we say, "Best of luck and so long until next year!"

how and by whom it is being run, and what part he himself plays in the governing of his country. It is easily seen why a year of United States History is required of every graduate. Students follow the development of our country from its birth to the present date. They build the West, fight the wars, win the elections, puzzle out the economic situations, and acquire a background that is essential to every good citizen.

Some of the fellows and girls were fortunate enough to be included in the groups which visited the United Nations at Flushing Meadows and Lake Success or who were present at the Herald Tribune Forum at the Waldorf Astoria. These Techites who are studying the government today might be the ones who will run it tomorrow.

Modern Languages

Tech is doing its best to make student linguists. By the time Miss Mary McCarthy is through, our students and the neighbors to the South ought to be able to converse freely. The good neighbor policy doesn't know how much it has to owe to Tech, where all good Spaniards come from. [Our version, of course!] In Spanish classes, all phases of the language are taught. Grammar, reading, translating, and even the history of the language are studied. The customs and geography are also introduced in the brief exposition to the language.

Tech doesn't stop on this continent, but travels across the Atlantic to France. Miss Elsa Jaede and Mr. Howard Mitchell both attempt to make the answer to "Parlez-vous français?" be "Yes". Victrolas are often used to help in the pronunciation and translation of the French language. An interesting story holds the interest of the class between the learning of verbs and French sentence structure.

There is one other language taught at Tech. It is only a step across the border from France into Germany. Mr. Fales Newhall helps out in this department. The same principles apply in teaching this language as in the others. Mr. Newhall seems to have a special knack in teaching German. You can't tell the difference between the real Germans and Mr. Newhall's products.

Many of our language teachers receive French and Spanish newspapers. The students can see the Spanish or French papers and compare them with our own. Many times the language teacher adds to the students' foreign education by relating his or her own experiences in a foreign country. Somehow, the teacher can explain the people and their customs better by actual incidents, than by reading a book. At the present time, during the world crisis, the knowledge of many languages is a great help in getting along with other nations in the world.

With the coming of J. Lawrence Coulter to Tech in January, the Music department got underway. There were four regular classes totaling about 340 students, and three special groups which were formed by auditions. These were the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and a mixed chorus called the Techoral. Tech Turns to Music was the feature attraction in which all the groups mentioned plus the Swing Band and the Military Band, under the direction of Al Strohman, performed. There were solos and instrumental numbers. For the last number on the program, all the groups and both bands combined to present Fred Waring's arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Under the direction of Sidney V. Doane, the drama class entertained at several assemblies. But we all agree that the best performance of the year was "Brother Goose", the annual play. This was a sparkling comedy about an orphan family. Kenneth MacDonald and Diane Pase played the leading roles. Ken is the only freshman ever to play the leading role in an annual play. In the supporting cast were Barbara Wilson, Evelyn Connolly, Sherman Tarr, Laurajo Weckwerth, Corrine Gaito, Barbara Trombley, Marcia Burleigh, Mary Lou Davis, Phil Bellefleur, and Eugene Herbert. Soon after the annual play had been presented, the drama class started working on a play for the Massachusetts Drama Festival. This year the festival was held in Sommerville, Massachusetts. Here they competed against 15 other schools, and were judged by professional theater men. They had a hard time deciding between a serious play and a comedy. The former was finally decided upon, and the drama class offered stiff competition for the other schools attending. Acting, however, isn't the only phase of drama studied. The class also learns about make-up, costuming, publicity, property work, and even writing.

Art and Mechanical Drawing

The art course, one of the most popular programs at Tech, gives one a real opportunity in the field of his choice. A person especially interested in clothes and color schemes in the home benefits greatly from the art appreciation course. The poster-making class is another popular field of art. You can see the accomplishment and talent this class has by the posters seen around the corridors. In the costume design classes the students design original clothes. In these classes, the foundations of the careers of many of our future dress designers are formed.

All the boys and girls interested in freehand drawing have a class provided for them to improve their original talent. Portraits of fellow students and teachers are some of the many projects of this class.

The phase of art having to do with outdoor life is landscape. Students wishing to improve the landscape of their homes find this class a great help. Out of these many courses of art, any student may choose the one he likes and does best, and can feel that he will acquire full knowledge of the course.

In the mechanical drawing classes, the future engineers and architects are molded. With their T-squares and rulers, the boys acquire skill in precision and manipulation of instruments.

From the well-equipped mechanical drawing classes, boys go forth to famous colleges and universities to be successful in courses in engineering and architecture. Young men enter various businesses in the city as able draftsmen, capable of securing and maintaining good jobs because of the foundation they received in the mechanical drawing classes at Tech.

As a regular part of the school curriculum, mechanical drawing is one of the boys' favorite subjects.

Passing along the third floor corridor, one can often smell the appetizing aromas from the food classes. Here the girls learn the essentials of cooking and serving well-balanced meals under the direction of Miss Beatrice Miller and Miss Ruth Gabler. The duty of each girl varies so that everyone will have an opportunity to learn the different household tasks. After learning the fundamentals of cooking, the preparation of actual meals is undertaken. The freshmen make simpler meals from those prepared by the seniors who have the opportunity to broil chicken and to prepare dinners that make everyone's mouth water. The completion of this course practically assures all the girls of being good hememakers of the future.

The beginning of the 1948-49 school year brought two new clothing teachers to Tech. Their names are Miss Helen Borrner and Mrs. Goldie Parks. They appear to have taken over very well since the retirements of Miss Sadie Swenson and Mrs. Helen Dodge and the transfer of Miss Mildred Dobbs to Commerce.

The classes have instructions that are necessary for the proper fit, durability, laying, cutting, and care of materials and clothing. The equipment which the girls use is, for the most part, the latest in style. There are steam irons, electric sewing machines, button-hole attachments, and other helpful articles. The clean glass paneled closets in which the girls hang their garments help to keep them from being soiled or harmed. The clothing teachers, in addition to their regular classes, often help in the designing, planning, and sewing of costumes used for school productions. Nearly every year, the clothing classes stage a fashion show. The show enables everyone to see the fine, professional-like work done by the Tech clothing classes.

It must be very difficult for two new teachers to take over the jobs done formerly by three. Credit should be given to Miss Borrner and Mrs. Parks for the fine job they are doing.

Every girl knows that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. In nutrition the girls learn to classify and use foods properly. The basic elements needed for a well-balanced diet are also studied. Later in the course, menus are planned with the help of Miss Gabler. Anyone can prepare some kind of meal, but it takes a person with some knowledge of food to prepare a good one.

The aim of almost every girl is to have a home of her own some day. In home management, the problems of managing and financing a home are discussed. By keeping accounts, the girls can actually see where their money goes. The major project of the year is the making of a "dream house". The class enables the girls to see the problems they will meet and have to face when establishing their own homes.

It's all in the know-how, girls. To keep healthy is a problem if you don't know how. Here at Tech, hygiene is a half-year course. This course is designed to teach this necessary knowledge. A life-sized skeleton is used to demonstrate the bone structure. By learning the functions and proper care of the organs of the body, our girls are becoming healthier and happier citizens.

Mathematics and Science

We have a great number of mathematical wizards here at Tech known as teachers. They try extremely hard to pass at least a part of their knowledge on to us, and they usually do not fail to do so.

The college preparatory girls are required to have two years of math, while the generals need only one. Both the C.P. and General boys need three years of the subject.

We have quite a few different courses of math here, consisting of plane and solid geometry, elementary and advanced algebra, trigonometry, review and advance math, shop math, and strength of materials.

Algebra is divided into two sections — elementary and advanced. The elementary course is taken by those freshmen who have not had any previous algebra in junior high school. This is an interesting and fascinating class where you learn to calculate and solve problems by the use of letters as well as numbers. Intermediate algebra is taken after plane geometry. This is where you learn to figure out even more complex problems by the use of as many as three unknown quantities represented by letters.

Plane geometry is a subject which baffles even the "brainsters". Here you have to prove everything you say by the use of theorems. Take it from us, it is quite hard to figure out sometimes.

Among the electives of maths for C.P. seniors are trigonometry, solid geometry, review math, and advanced math. General students take Trig. G. or shop math as juniors, and strength of materials or review math as seniors.

Solid geometry is a half-year course, being supplemented by trigonometry. "Solid" has to do with figures of three dimensions, while "trig" tackles problems with logarithms, sines, cosines, and tangents.

Strength of materials concerns the amount of stress that different materials can stand under different situations. For you soon-to-be-contractors, engineers, nurses, or doctors, mathematics is, indeed, an essential and profitable course.

Our Science department is well equipped and covers a large range of studies, including biology, chemistry, physics, and physiography. The biology classes are, in the most part, composed of freshman girls, while the tenth grade boys go to physics for their first year of Tech science. Biology is the study of plant and animal life, and many specimens, both living and dead, are available for the students to study. An armadillo took up residence in the biology lab this year, but its reign was as short lived as that of Mr. Reid's pickled cat, which ended its career in a blaze of glory when it was sent to the furnace room by mistake. While the girls are dissecting frogs, the boys are studying the physical changes of matter. A knowledge of electricity, gravity, the speed of light, and other knowledge is theirs before the unit is completed. Physiography is not a required subject; but it attracts Techites as honey attracts flies. This class studies the weather, and can often be seen, consulting the complex apparatus on the school roof. It is a common belief that Mr. Clancy and his group were responsible for the rain which brightened our lives on the day of the Tech-Cathedral football game.

In his junior or senior year, a student finds himself in a third floor room, surrounded by test tubes and beakers, for chemistry is a required science at Tech. Thanks to an ample amount of apparatus, students can conduct many experiments individually. The fact that the labs are conveniently located in the Elliot Street section of the building, prevents our future Lavoisiers from blaming objectionable odors on the girls' foods classes. All these sciences give the students a good background in that subject, and set up a firm foundation for those who wish to continue in these fields.

Shops

The shop work has a definite place on the program of every boy who attends Tech. In the wood shop the fellows learn not only to use the machines connected with this work, but also the valuation of lumber and additional information pertaining to this. The weather-vanes made by several of the boys this year are sufficient proof of the ability our Tech fellows have in machine shop. A picture displaying their master pieces was printed in a well-known Boston paper. News of Tech certainly travels! Beginning with screw drivers and prick punches, many fellows work themselves up until they excel in this shop practice. This machine shop training has proven itself to be of great use to Tech graduates who have opened shops of their own.

What's that? Your car won't start? Are your spark plugs wet? Perhaps your battery has just tuckered itself out. Of course, you may just need a little gasoline. The boys in Mr. Baker's auto shop learn to cope with these problems and deal with them effectively. They discover that wires and perfect machinery make an automobile, not enamel and shiny chrome. Of course, the gingerbread helps with the car's appearance. As the boys probe into the dark realms under an automobile's hood, the parts of the school adjacent to the auto shop are treated to a serenade by the drills.

One of the most interesting of all classes, particularly shops, is aeronautics taught by Mr. Bushey. An air enthusiast himself, he does his best to teach and make the boys understand the theory of flying and the mechanics involved. Tech has always been air-minded and enthusiasm runs high.

It is easily seen that shop work is important in Tech school life.

Tech Tiger

For exactly two hundred eighty-one words we can resort to a little self-praise. Seriously, we are proud of our book and our staff. Though we were rather skeptical as to who our adviser would be, Miss Una D. Hilliker, who has advised five prize winning books and had been released this year, came to our rescue by continuing in her task of supervising one of the best books yet. Our co-editors-in-chief were Marie Torres and Margaret Napolitan. Peggy took care of the literary angle, while Marie worked with those all important pictures. Pat Hamilton acted as associate editor, and is ready to step into the position of editor-in-chief of the '50 year book. Carol Grant, John Joslyn, and David Parker were the sports editors. Joan Buddington did the long tedious job of typing all the copy, while Mary Lou Leander was always on the job making appointments for the individual senior class pictures. Each page of this Tiger shows the excellent work which our photographers, Bruce Grant and John Young, have done. Miss Ida Roy, as art adviser, directed the design and drawing of the cover in the manner of a true artist. The cover design was made by Jackson Paine, whose beautiful work is well-known to Tech. Everyone on all staffs worked hard and gave unstintingly of their time to make this a good book.

Many of us, including Miss Hilliker, are ending our careers on the TIGER staff. The new staff and adviser, who take our places next year, will find that it is well worth the hard work to see their book finally published between covers proudly bearing the words TECH TIGER.

The 1948-49 editions of Tech News were under the supervision of Mrs. Brazeau who replaced Mr. Dwight Francis who had been transferred to another school. A few major changes have been made, because of the crucial financial situation of school funds. For this reason, it was necessary to curtail the number of issues and cut the size of the paper.

Editor-in-chief Betty MacDonald, now in her mighty senior year, has done a great job with the Tech News. She has been ably assisted by Betty Sullivan, feature editor; Don Campbell, news editor; and George Streeter, business manager. Hermy Wolk, the sports editor, brightened up the sports section very well with his snappy articles on our great variety of sports. The meeting place of the Tech News staff, room 225, overflows with activities. In one corner Natalie Hall, John Turnbull, and a few more reporters behind the scenes busily chew their pencils ragged for the planning of their usual super reports. The big events which most of the staff attended were the conventions of the W.M.L.S.P. which means Western Massachusetts League of School Publications. These meetings included a business session, followed by dinner and dancing.

The News this year will lose all four editors for they are seniors. Four juniors, however, have been trained this year to fill these important editorial posts next year.

Although there were fewer copies of the Tech News this year, each issue was a sample of the best workmanship possible. The paper showed what good ideas and cooperation can do.

Pro Merito - S. A. Board

Being a member of the Pro Merito certainly has its advantages. An extra set of books and an early dismissal are among the many privileges granted to its members. This year, as always, the society has done a marvelous job of carrying on its record of past years. Jack Joslyn, president of the Senior Pro Merito, and Oscar Korell, of the junior group ought to be congratulated for the fine work they have done. The deserving members with B plus averages have also had their share of fun. Being a progressive group, the society bravely undertook the task of planning a newspaper. The paper is to be called the "Pro Meritorian" and will be under the direction of Betty MacDonald, who will act as Editor-in-Chief this year. Members of the committee aiding Miss MacDonald are Theresa LeBlanc, John Joslyn, Donald Kline, Betty Sullivan, and Pat Rugiani. Mr. Theodore Chase has been aiding the group in the absence of Dr. Charles Cockayne, who was the regular adviser. Techites attended the two Pro Merito conventions, which were held at Palmer and Greenfield this year. The '48 convention, it will be remembered, was held here at Tech. A Pro Merito membership is becoming a true distinction in Western Massachusetts, and we know our Tech members are a credit to the society and to the school. We all hope for future success of the organization and for the new paper.

The S. A. Board has, as usual, done a superb job with our annual budget. They have obtained a great number of extra advantages for us this year. These include a reduction for S. A. members on the prices of Tech Tantrums, the Gymboree, and the annual school play. The board is composed of representatives from each of the student activities. It is under the guidance of our principal, M. Marcus Kiley, with Mr. Henry Hewitt acting as treasurer. Marie Torres capably served as secretary of the board this year. The high prices have made the budget a real task. It has been necessary to make cuts in some places to make ends meet. The first action taken to save money was the change in size of our Tech publications, the Tech News and the Tech Tiger. Other attempts, such as selling book covers and roses, were made to raise funds. Those flashy black and orange neckties, which were sported around the building, also make quick and easy sales. The successful efforts of the board are appreciated by all. Thanks to these efforts, Tech students feel that their money is spent to good advantage.

The Student Council deserves a great deal of praise. President Mark Schupack and the other members of the council have been representing you, the students, in our Tech government. They have also been our delegates to outside organizations, such as the Inter-school Council. The council has proved an excellent medium through which students are able to voice their own opinions and present any new ideas for improvements in Tech life. We are all grateful for the excellent work they have done. Other active members of the council were Philip Putnam, vice-president; Marie Torres, secretary; Pat Hamilton, chairman of activities; Joan Monaghan, chairman of legislation; Barbara Rugani, general welfare chairman; Jack Joslyn, manager of the Tech store; and Donald Campbell, chairman of properties. Some of the projects undertaken this year were the washing of the flags throughout the building and the composing of a directory of the Tech graduates who are now working in Springfield. The council has attempted a great deal this year, and we appreciate the many hours of extra time they have contributed in our behalf.

Hi-Y - Nisimaha

Tech's Hi-Y met every Thursday evening this past year at the Y.M.C.A. These gatherings were led by their president, George Streeter; vice-president, Bernard Kiley; secretary, William Buckley; treasurer, Harold Ely; and the club's most capable adviser, Mr. Charles Allen.

Their activities were very much varied to include speakers, discussions, visits to interesting places, swims, and business meetings. This year the club also helped out with the development and organization of Tech's exhibit at Barney Institute. At the beginning of the year, because of the low membership in the club, a membership drive was launched when many new members were added.

This club worked very well to provide an outlet for pleasant fellowship among the many interested boys of Tech, who in turn helped the club with its numerous projects and programs.

If you were in the vicinity of the Y.W.C.A., any Monday evening this past year, you most likely saw a group of cheerful Tech girls on their way to a Nisimaha meeting. Among the group were the four officers who never missed a meeting. These girls were Gloria Mascioni, president; Rita Scalise, vice-president; Joanna Little, secretary; and Joyce Russell, treasurer.

At their meetings, the girls either had a party, played games, listened to an interesting lecture, danced, or planned for some of their very enjoyable coming events. With their adviser, Miss Dorothy Adams, these girls attempted to maintain the motto of their club: comradeship, friendship, and sportsmanship, from which the club gets its Indian name, Nisimaha. The girls were very ambitious, helpful to one another, and willing to work together to maintain a marvelous Y-Teen Club.

In later years, when these girls look back to their school days, they will always think of the great times they had at Nisimaha. The happy times which they had will always remain a pleasant memory.

Lunch Squad Student Patrol Stage Crew

Art Toss on ladder—Charles Rioux below.

The Student Patrol has been very active during the past year. It begins working the minute Tech opens in September and continues until she closes her doors again in June. Under the careful guidance of Mr. Donald Gifford and Mr. Melvin Lynch, the Student Patrol has carried on its part in Tech government. Chief Donald Kuhn, together with four captains, nine lieutenants, and thirty patrolmen, helps maintain order in the corridors and during assemblies. The patrol serves at all our dances and other affairs which the school sponsors. They collect tickets, check coats, and assist with the ushering. We appreciate and are truly proud of the wonderful work done by Mr. Gifford, Mr. Lynch, and the boys. The Student Patrol is a real part of Tech life.

Ring goes the lunch bell, and before you can shout, "Tech High, Rah, Rah!", the hungry students are dashing toward the lunchroom only to be stopped by the ever watchful lunchroom patrol. It is their duty to keep order and prevent accidents. Under the direction of Miss Lillian O'Conner of the lunch department, our nine charming cashiers make it possible for you to obtain quick and efficient service. They try to keep the lines moving along quickly, yet be as accurate as possible with each meal. Peggy Napolitan, June Mallalieu, and Natalie Hall have been cashiers for their three years at Tech. Barbara Burbank, Patricia O'Brien, Rose Moses, and Joan Elliot have been on the patrol for two years. The girls have been fortunate enough to obtain the service of two freshmen, Barbara of odd jobs. A few of them might be moving furniture around; others may be adjusting the curtains or setting up the sound effects. Have you ever wondered about the lighting? Well, here again is where the stage crew steps in and produces just the right effect. Let's not forget the girls who assist the boys by giving the setting their feminine touch. They are Gloria Balboni, Grace Tranghese, and Joan Warner. That certain something would be missed by all if it weren't for these girls. After the show, you will find the boys a little tired, but awfully proud of themselves. The next time you see the curtains going up on the Tech stage, kindly remember the hard work and difficult problems the stage crew has to face to make our shows successful.

Baker and Marcia Francis. They are expected to carry on the work of the seniors who will be leaving us this year. We here at Tech are proud to house the central office of all junior and senior high school lunch patrols in the city. The squad has done an outstanding piece of work this year in carrying out its activities.

Even though you don't see the stage crew out in front during a play, they are the backbones of every production. Under the able guidance of Mr. Charles Winslow, the stage crew has accomplished wonders in making each performance at Tech a success. If, before a play, you happen casually to meander onto the stage, you will find yourself surrounded by six or more busy young men doing all sorts

Short gain by John Masteria in the Tech-Holyoke game.

One of the best and most important phases of extracurricular activities at Tech is participation in sports. The boys who go out for a team receive many benefits. Not only do they learn how to play a sport, but they also acquire friends they would not have known otherwise. Some of the teams take long trips into Connecticut and New York, places where some of the fellows have never been. These occasions broaden one's education and give him something that is not found in school books. Sports also have another good point, that of character building. Where else is there a better chance to learn sportsmanship, aggressiveness, teamwork, cooperation, and tolerance than on a field of athletic contest? Every boy at Tech has an opportunity to receive some of the many benefits by participating in the sport of his choice.

Although the Tiger football array had its worst season in history, it did manage to upset Cathedral in the last game on its schedule. The Orange and Black just never seemed to get going. Injuries to such key players as co-captains, John "Red" Stewart and Ray "Chip" Cipriani, Jimmy De Marche, Athan "Soco" Catjakis, Frank Paige, and Paul Harrington forced Coach Vic Kodis to continually change and reorganize the team. Almost every game saw a new backfield combination, and the team as a whole never really became a working unit.

Oscar Korell, scrappy center and game captain, was the outstanding member of the team. He was brilliant on defense. In the four games which he played, Cipriani did a good job, both on offense and defense.

Others in the line included Everett Pomeroy, Mitchell Grondalski, Phil Putnam, Donald Viens, Frank Cava, Rick Riendeau, Jim Moran, and Jim Alberici. Beside Cipriani, Harrington, and Paige in the backfield were John Rubba at quaterback; John Manteria, Robert Domainque, Richard Bates, or Walter Slesarenko at the halfback positions; and either Stewart Whitlock, Ronny Gintowt, or Ed Moll at the fullback position. The remainder of the lettermen included Dean Bibens, James Burt, Louis Daponte, Harvey Geoffrion, Carlo Marchetti, Clifford Quimby, John Rado, and Rovert Visnaw.

The footballers from Pittsfield ground out a tough victory over a fighting Tech eleven, 7-0. The Shire City team scored early in the first period after a poor Tech kick. The teams battled evenly for the remainder of the afternoon. The squads alternated on trying to get an offense rolling, but neither got very far. Cipriani played an excellent game.

A slow and sluggish Tech team lost to a light, fast-running Hartford outfit, 13-0. Early in the first quarter, the Hartford team went for a touchdown. The Tiger defense stiffened just enough after that to hold the Owls until late in the fourth when Hartford scored on a blocked kick. Korell was outstanding on defense, making many superb tackles. The Tech array had only one good drive all day, but it faltered before hitting pay dirt.

Although Tech fought hard and scored its first touchdown of the season, they could not overcome an early Chicopee lead, and lost 13-6. The Skiptown eleven scored both T.D.'s in the first half. An inspired Tech team took to the field after intermission and came close to tying up the game, but penalties hampered the squad. A pass from Slesarenko to Manteria provided the touch-down.

A speedy, scrappy Turners Falls team completely out ran the Tech eleven for Tech's fourth loss of the season, 27-0. Scoring in the first, second, and third quarters, the Powertown squad gathered an early lead. The Tiger team got to the Turner Falls 25-yard line only once during the entire game. Korell was the only bright light for Tech, as he excelled on defense.

Holyoke High handed Tech a 26-0 drubbing when the two teams met at Pynchon Park. A Holyoke half-back, Eddie Brown, ran for three touchdowns, while the Tiger offense never got going. Riendeau and Korell both did a good defensive job. In this fifth game, as in previous ones, Tech showed signs of developing an aerial attack.

A power-laden team from Greenfield was just too much for the Tigers as they fell 39-6. The Nicholsmen piled up four touchdowns in the second quarter and never were headed. Tech's lone touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a pass from Slesarenko to Marchetti in the end zone.

Westfield's Peanut Bowl football championship team trounced Tech with a final score of 40-6. The Bombers scored the first four times they got their hands on the ball, but were able to score only one T.D. in the last half. In that second half, the Bengals started two drives into Westfield territory. The second drive netted them a touchdown, when Pomeroy caught Gintowt's pass and raced into the end zone.

Tech almost came through with its first victory when Korell went 50 yards with an intercepted pass to score against Classical in the final quarter. The Bulldogs couldn't be stopped, however, and a Classical aerial knotted the score at 6-6. Both teams had muffed previous scoring chances. Harrington, Pomeroy, Korell and Moll were outstanding for Tech. This game saw Cipriani return to action and give a good account of himself.

In a sea of mud at Pynchon Park Tech upset its traditional rival, Cathedral, 13-6, for its first and only win of the season. Moran can be given a great deal of credit for his outstanding punting performance. Cipriani scored the first touchdown after a Cathedral fumble in the first quarter. Another Cathedral fumble gave Tech the ball on the 25-yard line. A pass play netted 23 yards, and then Moll went over standing up. Tech was content to play defensive ball for the remainder of the game, and successfully stymied the furious Panther aerial assault after it had resulted in one tally. It was a good end to a bad season.

Coach Johnny Kalloch brought forth one of the best basketball teams in Western Massachusetts this year, but it was not quite good enough when the chips were down.

The Tech hoopsters were sporting a 14 and one record when they came up against Cathedral for the second time in an Interschool League joust. Cathedral not only took this game, but also beat Tech in a thrilling play-off game to earn the chance to meet Classical for the city championship. The season closed on a sour note as the Tigers lost the last four games. The overall season record was 14 wins and five losses.

The mainstay of the team was Captain John "Lefty" Ferrero, who was not only the outstanding playmaker, but also second only to Elvin Eady in the scoring department. At the forward slots were Joe Gulluni, the one-handed push shot artist and third high scorer, and dependable George Maggi, one of the most underrated basketball players in the city. Elvin Eady, at center, did an excellent job under the backboards. John Pasteris, another underrated player, filled the other guard position capably. Ken Cuffee, Jimmy Jones, Frank "Buddy" Kaveney, Athan "Soco" Catjakis, John Wajdula, Bob Mllett, John "Red" Stewart, Tom Casey, Larry Lee, and Charlie Brsykiewicz composed the rest of the varsity squad.

Tech opened the season with an impressive victory over Greenfield, 47-31. The Tiger team played a good brand of ball throughout the game. Gulluni led the scoring with 18 points.

With Eady pacing the attack with 22 markers, the Orange and Black rolled to an easy win over Turners Falls, 59-27.

A last-minute basket by Jones gave the Tigers a hard-fought decision over Hartford High on the Owls' home court, 40-39.

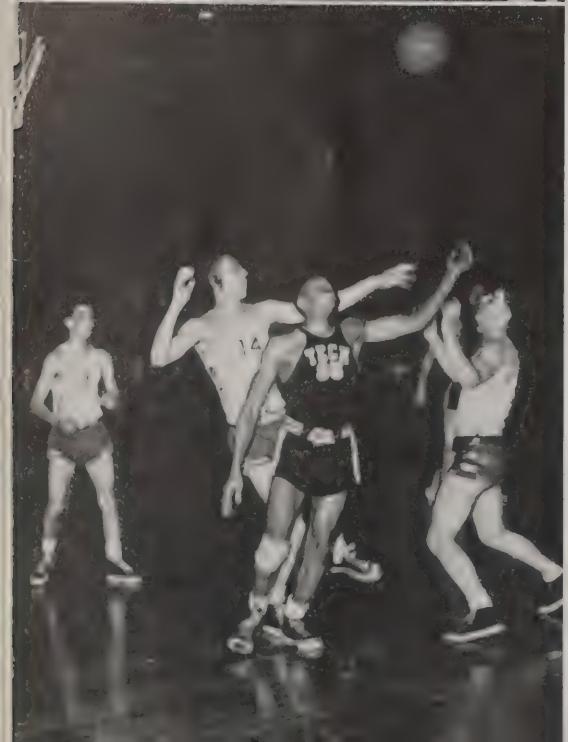

Tech, although not playing up to its usual standard, managed to rack up its fourth win by downing Northampton, 49-39. Ferrero parted the nets for 18 points.

The Bengals came from behind to nip a strong Holyoke team, 31-29. The Holyoke defense kept the Tech shooters in check most of the game, but Gulluni scored enough times to turn the tide.

The Tiger team topped Agawam, 46-43, for its sixth straight win. Eady was top scorer with 18 markers.

Classical beat Tech in a stunning upset, 41-35. Ferrero's 17 points were not enough to win. Tech was leading with three minutes to go, but couldn't hold on.

The Tigers got back on the victory wagon by posting two triumphs over Commerce and Trade, by scores of 34-15 and 67-37, respectively.

Tech nosed out Cathedral, 35-33, in a thrilling contest before 4200 frantic Field House fans. Both teams played heads-up ball.

The Tigers took the measure of Northampton for the second time, 51-38.

Revenge was sweet as the Tiger squad swamped Classical, 54-24. This win marked the first time in five games that Tech has beaten the Bulldogs. Gulluni, Eady, and Ferrero all broke into double figures.

Commerce and Trade both fell for the second time before the on-rushing Tiger five, 70-37 and 60-38, respectively.

The Orange and Black walked all over Hartford High in their second meeting of the season. The final score was 54-29.

For the first time in seven years, Cathedral came up with a victory over Tech, 52-47, and threw the city circuit into a three-way tie.

The Tigers bowed to Worcester North, 42-34, for their third defeat. The Tech quintet was slow in starting and never quite caught up.

Although the Bengals rallied in the third quarter, it was not enough to overcome an early Greenfield lead, and the Tiger hoopsters lost, 52-39.

A fighting Tech five put on a terrific rally in the last canto against Cathedral to cut away a 12 point deficit only to lost out in the final seconds, 35-34.

This game closed out the season, but left much hope for next year, because only one of the starting five, Maggi, is leaving the squad.

The 1948 edition of the Tech baseball team started off as though it were really going places by taking quick measure of Chicopee, Ludlow, Classical, Commerce, Williston, and Hartford. The fortunes of the team then slid rapidly, as it lost successively to Classical, Holyoke, and Cathedral. The Panthers' victory cost Tech the city championship. Bill Lawler's team finished an average season with six wins and three losses.

In the first round of the Western Mass. Schoolboy Baseball Tournament, Tech bowed to Agawam 5-2. Rain and bad weather hampered the team throughout the season.

The mainstay of the pitching staff was Red Stewart, with a four and three record. He showed good stuff, but was hindered at times by lack of control. He was ably assisted by John [Lefty] Ferrero, an up-and-coming freshman; Hermy Wolk, Martin Tyburski, and John Lyons made up the rest of the pitching staff.

It was Dusty Rhodes behind the plate all the way. The rest of the infield included John Pasteris, another freshman, Bob Walker, Bill Barbes, and Dick Morace. Roaming the outfield were Jim Hamilton, Fred Scamardella, and John Stahura. Ferrero alternated in the outfield.

Hamilton starred at the plate, finishing the season with a .425 mark and several home runs to his credit. Stahura, Barbes, Ferrero, and Walker also hit well. Other members of the team were Fitzgerald, Paige, Korell, Francis, Lapton, Massoia, Grimaldi, Ferrero, Glyn, and Gibbons, while Alberici, Schwartz, Kaveney, and Dulchinos worked as managers.

Tech placed four men on the all-city team — Bill Barbes, Dick Morace, Jim Hamilton, and John Stahura.

The Bengals opened the season by beating Chicopee 7-2. Good five-hit pitching by Stewart held Chicopee while the Orange and Black, led by Bill Barbes, collected nine safeties. A home run ruined Stewart's shutout.

Tech made it two straight by beating Ludlow, behind another five-hit pitching job by Stewart. The Tigers bunched hits in the second and third innings to score all their runs. Dick Morace had two hits, while Bill Barbes starred on defense.

The Bengals trounced Classical 9-3 for win number three. Ferrero made his first start and stopped the Bulldogs with only six hits. The game was featured by circuit blows by Hamilton, Rhodes, Morace, and Barbes.

Everyone saw action as Tech walked over Commerce 11-2. Wolk was the starting and winning pitcher. The Tigers banged out a total of 12 hits.

The team next went to Williston, where it collected 17 hits to swamp the academy 15-1. Stewart was the winning pitcher, and Stahura boosted his batting average with four hits.

In a loosely played game, Tech triumphed over Hartford 6-5 in the ninth inning. Jim Hamilton made several brilliant running catches.

Classical upset Tech for its first loss of 5-4 on a ninth inning rally. Classical double plays and poor base running erased several scoring chances. Stewart relieved Ferrero in the seventh and was the loser. Bob Walker had a big day collecting four hits, including a triple.

Holyoke handed Tech its second setback, 7-6. At one time in the game, Tech had a four run lead, but then proceeded to let it slip. Stewart was charged with the loss.

In the first night game, Cathedral downed Tech 6-5 in a thrill-packed game featured by home run drives by Cathedral's Lou Gimmarino, and Hamilton. Double plays and effective pitching in the clutches by Ed Dunn thwarted several threats. Hamilton had a perfect night with four hits.

In the first round of the Western Mass. Tournament, Agawam knocked Tech out with a 5-2 win. Lefty Ferrero was going fine until he ran into trouble in the eighth inning, when he was relieved by Stewart. Hamilton banged out two hits for the home team.

Tech's 1948 trackmen wound up a very successful season last spring with a record of three wins and two losses. Coach Milt Orcutt's addicts of the oval captured both the Western Massachusetts and City track titles. The Tigers, under co-captains Ed Snow and Tony Mole, had an exceptionally well-balanced team.

The Orange and Black was edged by Suffield in an exciting meet to open the season. Baird was a double winner for Tech, heaving the discus and javelin. The Bengals then journeyed to Amherst for the University of Massachusetts High School Relays, where five hundred athletes were competing. Tech did well, placing in both the high jump and javelin. The Tigers took the Western Massachusetts track title in an especially thrilling meet, as Turners Falls was leading by one point until the last event. The Tech winners were Snow, Burt, Eady, Viens, and Ware. The Techites went on to capture the city track title with ease, as they dethroned Classical by a 63 to 36 victory. Elvin Eady starred in a meet which saw Tech take seven out of eleven firsts. The Tigers closed the season by beating Pittsfield.

Tech's booters, under able coach Johnny Kalloch, left behind a hard-fought season with a record of two wins, one tie, and eight losses. As there were only two vets from last season, this year's players lacked that all-important experience.

In the first intercity game, the Tigers battled to a 1-1 deadlock with Commerce, through two overtime periods. Dias scored for Tech. The Orange and Black then won a forfeited game from Trade 1-0. Kalloch's kickers went on to beat Classical 2-0 for their second win in city league competition. Tech's tallies were booted home by Ballard and Wajdula. In their second clash of the season, Commerce downed the Tigers 3-1, with Tarr scoring for Tech. The Bengals then went down at the hands of Trade, 3-1, with Tarr scoring again. Tech had trouble in games with neighboring cities, as they lost five to outside teams. Holyoke, Williston, and West Springfield each beat them once, while Ludlow downed them twice. The Orange and Black wound up the season as Easthampton blanked them 2-0.

With much fanfare, the fifth annual Gymboree was held on April 22, in the Tech auditorium. Under the guidance of Miriam Hatch, Vic Kodis, and several Springfield College students, a group of gymnasts were trained. The show took a very polished form and had considerable variety.

Tech's mermen continued to leave behind an outstanding record, this year as in previous ones, because they copped the Western Massachusetts Championship for the fifth time in six tries. In dual meets, they also defeated Holyoke, Suffield Academy, and Classical twice, while losing only to Buckley, Hartford, and Holyoke.

Captain Jack Joslyn, who won 17 out of 18 races, was unquestionably the star performer on the team, with Sikes and Kutzenko both well above average. Other lettermen of this well-organized group were T. Murphy, R. Malstrom, R. Gibson, E. Kopyscinski, J. Anderson, G. Drews, H. Batchelder, D. McKinstry, H. Clark, R. Murphy, and N. Holway.

In the Western Mass. Meet, Joslyn took the 100 and 200 yard freestyle, while Sikes captured the diving laurels. This helped Tech roll up 51 points, a lead of six against its nearest rival, Holyoke. Joslyn set one of four new meet records, as he took the 200 yard freestyle in the time of 2:14.8.

Several team members took part in the Mass. State and New England Championship meets, with Joslyn placing in both.

Girls' Sports

The sports activities of the girls play such an important part in school life at Tech that it is difficult to believe that our girls could get along without the friendly atmosphere of good sportsmanship witnessed wherever the groups may meet.

At the beginning of the semester, we were ably assisted in the gym by a student teacher from Sargent College, Miss Laura Heiniche. Our regular instructors, Miss Miriam Hatch and Miss Ann Ratto, were always standing by to give their experienced advice.

Again this year, the agenda for learning was full. Added to all the after school activities, field hockey, basketball, volley ball, modern dancing, tap dancing, and square dancing were taught in classes. The ability of the girls to absorb and apply what they had learned was brought out in achievement tests which were given them at the completion of each course.

During September and October, on Wednesdays and Mondays, the "able Grables" at Tech met to play field hockey at Magazine Playground. Some of the better-known seniors who played were Marie Torres, center forward; Betty O'Brien, left-inner position; and Dot Hardina, right wing.

The first game was played with Commerce and ended in a 2-2 tie. A second game was played to determine the winner, but the teams were both on guard, and the final score was 0-0.

L. to r.: Barbara Rugani, Janet Smith, Rosemary Lawler, Lauro Jo Weekworth, Marie Torres.

Of course, for the "dainty-Doras" there was the indoor sport of swimming. The class met every Thursday from October 7, to December 16, at the Boys' Club pool. The turnout was surprisingly large. Because they received such a big splash out of it all, many girls expressed the desire to repeat this sport again next fall. With all summer to practice, they should be regular Esther Williamses by the time autumn draws around.

In full swing again this year was the G.A.A. With the support of Eleanor Scheesher, as president; Betty O'Brien, as vice-president; and Joan Fowlkes as secretary, the Club couldn't help but be successful.

Bowling seemed to be the most popular after school activity. It was held on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at the Apremont Alleys. Among the high scorers were Barbara Howard and Elaine Kerrico who always seemed to hit in the nineties. The top six bowlers from all after school groups were invited to uphold Tech's proficiency in the inter-school bowling meet.

During February, little after school activity took place because of the necessary preparations for the Gymboree. A constant search for talent was carried on by the instructors, and from the outcome of the show, their findings were beyond topping. Under the direction of Ann Ratto the Gymboree began to the tune of "Cheer! Cheer! Cheer! for Tech" by the cheerleaders in their usual peppy form. The audience recognized it as a pantomime of some of the regular Tech Cheers with which they became familiar at our games and rallies. The first half of the production was significant of the good old days, complete with the old-fashioned Can-Can, comedy ballet, and gay waltzes. The second half was given to dances set to modern music. "Radio City, here we come!" That was the cry of our Techettes as they did a military revue to the rhythm packed tune of "St. Louis Blue's March". It was strictly for the New York stage, and was done in perfect timing and co-ordination. The girls certainly showed their excellent training. Following a demonstration of modern dance technique, the audience was shown a polished modern dance in the tempo of "Malaquena."

From February 18-20, the opportunity for a week-end of winter fun was offered the Tech girls. What could be fairer than a stay in the hills of Petersborough, New Hampshire, complete with ice, snow, and instruction from trained teachers from the Boston University College of Physical Education for Women? It should be said here that the best way to find any winter fun this year was to travel away from the Springfield area. It was a good opportunity for exercise, but when the chow bell rang, every lost pound was accounted for! The exceedingly mild winter of '49 made this week-end the one real winter sports' event of the season.

An extra activity of our already active gym teachers was to train the group of cheerleaders who met Thursdays after school to practice their cheers for our games. The final scores weren't what they could have been, but the cheerleaders should be given "A" for effort in giving the players and onlookers the much needed zip so necessary to a good game. The rallies showed evidence of many new cheers which the cheerleaders themselves composed. The excellent training they received at practice was brought to light as they thrilled the spectators with their perfect timing and enthusiasm.

On Tuesdays, the Cadet Corps took over. This was a group of specially picked girls interested in extra gym work. They were chosen for their ability and cooperation in class, and were trained for the event of taking the place of the teacher, if need be.

As soon as the first signs of spring showed up, the bats and balls and mitts were taken out of storage for the game of softball on Mondays and Wednesdays. Practice lasted until the end of school. Besides enjoying the exercise in the fresh spring air, the girls benefited from the knowledge they received in the techniques and rules involved in playing the game as it should be played.

All in all, the sports' season for '48-'49 was a tremendous success with a large number of girls participating.

SIGNPOST OF YOUR FUTURE

Going To College?

The country and the community need college trained men and women to lead the coming generations.

At AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE you are offered . . .

1. A well-rounded educational institution, established in 1885, with a present enrollment of more than 1400 full-time students. American International College is co-educational and non-sectarian. It is one of the most rapidly growing institutions of higher learning in New England.
2. A chance to continue your education among former friends and classmates — more graduates of Springfield high schools go to AIC than to all other colleges combined.
3. A college recognized by the American Council on Education and the American Medical Association.
4. The home of the Model Congress — a popular feature which annually attracts high school students from all over New England.
5. The opportunity to get your degree while living at home. The amount saved can be applied toward graduate work or for starting in a business.
6. A good chance for a scholarship. Some high ranking students will be awarded scholarships if recommended by their principals.
7. No quota system.
